

Building a responsible diamond, gold and platinum metals supply chain from mine to customer.

The Responsible Jewellery Council is an international, not-for-profit organisation established to reinforce consumer confidence in the jewellery industry by advancing responsible business practices throughout the diamond, gold and platinum group metals jewellery supply chain.

RJC Code of Practices

- Launched in 2009 and a mandatory requirement for all RJC Commercial Members to be certified against within 2 years of joining.
- Allows an organisation to provide evidence of responsible business practice.
- Sets the foundation for responsible business practices in the supply chain at an individual business level.
- Available in 6 languages.

RJC Chain of Custody (CoC)

- CoC Standard for precious metals launched in March 2012. This is a voluntary standard for RJC Members.
- CoC Certification enables certified companies to make a claim about the material –the responsible practices that have applied in the supply chain.
- Can be used to support implementation of the OECD Due Diligence Guidance and Section 1502 of the Dodd Frank Act.

What RJC Mining Members see as the Benefits of Certification:

- Credibly evidence that your company is complying with an internationally recognised standard via an independent audit.
- Demonstrate compliance with various other standards (e.g. Extractive Industries Transparency Initiative, Cyanide Code) included in the Code of Practices.
- Enhance access to markets through a mine to retail initiative.
- Provide assurance to your customers and key stakeholders that the material you produce has been mined in a responsible way.

How to Join:

- RJC welcome new members from all parts of the world.
- Membership Fees for Diamond, Gold and/or Platinum Metals Producers are:
 - 0.0045% of Annual Relevant Sales
 - This percentage translates to $45.00 per million dollars of Annual Relevant Sales.
 - A minimum & maximum fee applies
