1. Purpose and Scope

The Governance Handbook has been approved by the Board of Directors of the Council on 5 December 2011. It provides direction to the Council on the responsibilities of the Board and the establishment, composition and terms of reference for Committees of the Council, and is subject to the Memorandum of Association and the Articles of Association of the Council.

The purpose of the Handbook is to provide guidance as to how the Memorandum of Association and the Articles of Association will be implemented, and how the Board and Committees of the Council will be run.

The RJC aims to ensure transparent, representative and appropriate governance for its large and growing membership.

This Handbook maintains the RJC's philosophy of seeking the consensus of all participants in the decisions of the various RJC Committees and provides for mechanisms that can, nonetheless, make decisions when consensus cannot be achieved.

2. Board of Directors

The Memorandum of Association and the Articles of Association are the founding documents of the Council.

- The Memorandum of Association records the incorporation of the Council, as a private company registered in England and Wales under the UK Companies Act, and establishes the Council's objectives and powers.
- The Articles of Association ("the Articles") provide details about the Council's internal management, including the powers and responsibilities of the Board of Directors (the "Board").

In the Articles, the Board is entrusted with the ultimate responsibility for the management of the Council.

Directors are appointed by the Founder Members of the Council, or elected by Member Fora, or appointed by the Board as additional Directors. Directors need not be Members of the Council. Persons appointed as additional Directors shall be knowledgeable of the Council's stakeholder sectors and shall be appointed in their personal capacity.

The Board appoints the Chief Executive Officer (the "CEO"), and determines the CEO's powers, duties and responsibilities.

The Board makes the final decision on approving new or revised RJC standards and certification models.

The Board is also responsible for the appointment of external financial auditors and receipt of the audit report.

In addition, the Articles establish the criteria for membership in the Council, Member subscriptions, disciplinary action against Members, election or appointment of Directors of the Council, and requirements for proceedings of the Board.

3. Committees of the Council

The Board may establish Committees of the Council to assist in conducting the business of the Council, and may delegate such powers to Committees as it may from time to time decide. Accordingly, the Board approves the Terms of Reference for all Committees of the Council.

There are eight Committees of the Council: Executive, Finance, People, Accreditation and Certification, Communications, Legal, Membership, and Standards. The current Committee structure is shown in Figure 1.

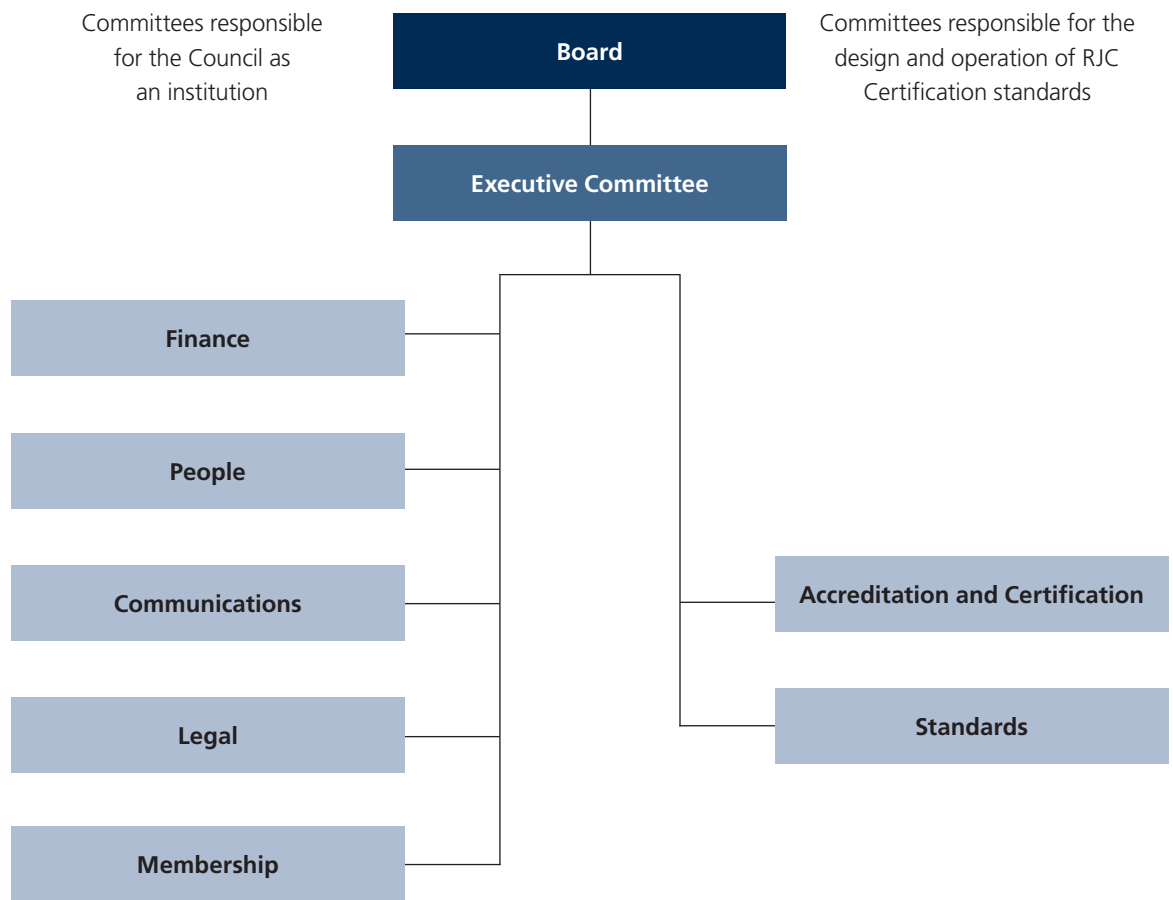

4. Executive Committee and the CEO

The Executive Committee, Finance Committee and People Committee report to the Board. All other Committees report to the Board through the Executive Committee.

The CEO reports to the Board through the Executive Committee.

Other Committees do not have authority to direct the CEO or other employees of the Council.

5. Rules for Committees

The following Rules apply to Committees.

5.1 Election and Appointment of Committee Members

All members of Committees shall be appointed by the Board. With the exception of the Standards Committee, Membership terms are for one-year with the possibility of re-election or re-appointment. Membership terms for the Standards Committee are two years, with the possibility of re-election or re-appointment, to enable continuity on standards development programs.

5.1.1 Executive Committee

The Chairmen of the Committees of the Council and the Officers of the Council shall, ex officio, be the members of the Executive Committee.

The Chairman and Deputy Chairman of the Board are the Chairman and Deputy Chairman of the Executive Committee.

5.1.2 Finance Committee

Up to one (1) Board member from each Member Forum may be a member of the Committee.

In addition, the Honorary Treasurer shall, ex officio, be a member of the Committee.

The Chairman of the Board will hold a call for nominations to the Committee, followed by a vote, if required, of the Board. Any Director may nominate himself.

The call for nominations and election will be held annually, and may be conducted electronically.

Members of the Committee shall, to the extent possible, have accounting or related financial management expertise. Accordingly, the call for nominations shall encourage nominations from individual Board members with appropriate qualifications.

5.1.3 People Committee

The Committee shall have a maximum of five (5) Board members, each representing a different Member Forum.

The Chairman of the Board will hold a call for nominations to the Committee, followed by a vote, if required, of the Board. Any Director of the Council may nominate himself.

The call for nominations and election will be held annually, and may be conducted electronically.

Members of the Communications, Legal, Membership, and Accreditation and Certification, Committees are elected to represent their respective Member Fora. Committee members-elect shall then be appointed by the Board for a one-year term. A maximum of two (2) individuals may represent a Member Forum on each Committee.

Elections will be conducted according to the following procedure, which shall be conducted by the CEO acting in his role as the Council's Returning Officer:

- During January of each year, a call for nominations for Committee members shall be issued to all Members of the RJC, grouped according to their respective Member Fora. Each Member of the RJC may nominate a single individual from their company or organisation. Nominees must be senior employees or directors of the Member.
- If more than two individuals are nominated for a Member Forum, an election shall be held amongst the Members of the relevant Member Forum. Each Member of the Forum shall have one vote. The two individuals with the greatest number of votes shall become elected.
- If two or less individuals are nominated by a Member Forum, then the individuals nominated shall be elected to the relevant Committee unopposed.
- The call for nominations and election will be held annually and may be conducted electronically.

Appointments of Committee members will be made by the Board at its next meeting, which will normally be held in March.

In the event of resignations or vacancies due to a lack of nominees, additional calls for nominations and elections, following the same election procedure as above, may be conducted during August of each year. The term for Committee members appointed under this method will be six (6) months.

If for any reason the number of members of a Committee falls below quorum, a call for nominations and elections shall be held as soon as practicable with committee members appointed by the Board for the balance of the 12 month period.

5.1.5 Legal Committee

All members of the Legal Committee shall have appropriate professional legal qualifications. Nomination eligibility will be restricted accordingly.

5.1.6 Legal Committee and Accreditation and Certification Committee - Appointment of External Members

In the case of the Legal Committee and the Accreditation and Certification Committee, individuals with appropriate professional qualifications who are not senior employees or directors of RJC Members may also be appointed by the Board.

5.1.7 Standards Committee

Members of the Standards Committee are either elected to represent their respective Member Fora, or appointed by the RJC Board from the RJC's major stakeholder sectors, to provide a balance of interested parties.

Committee members-elect from Member Fora shall be appointed by the Board for a two-year term. A maximum of two (2) individuals may represent a Member Forum. Calls for nominations and elections for Member Forum representatives will be conducted according to the same procedures as described above for the Communications, Legal, Membership, and Accreditation and Certification Committees.

At the beginning of each calendar year one Member Forum Committee Member from each Member Forum shall retire from office and the resulting vacancies shall be filled by one Member Forum Committee Member elected by each Member Forum in accordance with the procedures described in 5.1.4. The Committee Members to retire by rotation shall be those who have been in office longest since their last appointment or re-appointment but, as between persons who became or were reappointed Committee Members on the same day, those to retire shall (unless they shall otherwise agree among themselves) be determined by lot. No Committee Member shall unless otherwise agreed by the Board, be eligible to remain a Committee Member for more than six consecutive years.

Committee members-elect will provide the perspectives of materially-affected parties and will have relevant expertise in at least some aspects of RJC standards.

In addition to RJC Members representing their respective Member Fora, the Board will also appoint to the Standards Committee up to a maximum of twelve (12) interested parties with expertise in the issues being addressed by RJC Standards and/or who could influence implementation of RJC standards. 5.4 Committee Chairman and Secretary

Unless otherwise determined by the Terms of Reference, each Committee shall elect its own Chairman and may also elect a Deputy Chairman and a Secretary.

An external member of a Committee is not eligible to be the Chairman, Deputy Chairman or Secretary of a Committee. The Chairman, Deputy Chairman and Secretary may only be Committee members who are representatives of a Member Forum.

Any member of a Committee may nominate a Chairman, Deputy Chairman or Secretary. Election shall be by ballot.

Save in exceptional circumstances as determined by the Board, the Chairman of a Committee may not stand for election or be elected as Chairman if he has been Chairman for the preceding three years.

5.5 Committee Meetings

Directors of the Council are entitled to attend all Committee meetings.

5.6 Decision-Making

Committee Meetings will be conducted so as to endeavour to reach decisions through the consensus of all participants. Consensus is defined here as general agreement characterised by the absence of sustained opposition to substantial issues by any important stakeholder group: it is not necessarily unanimity. Consensus should be the result of a process seeking to take into account the views of interested parties and reconcile any conflicting arguments (ISO/IEC Guide 2: 2004).

To work towards consensus on significant decisions, Committee Chairs will ensure that all participants in meetings are invited to express their views. Sufficient time to discuss and debate decisions of significance should be allocated. Additional time and/or information may be requested by Committee Members to help facilitate a consensus outcome.

In the event that a consensus cannot be reached on a decision of significance, a vote will be taken amongst the Committee Members. This may be taken during the meeting, if a balance of interests are present, otherwise it will be conducted by electronic poll following the meeting. The CEO or a delegate will act as the returning officer. The electronic poll will require a Quorum of ballots cast, and will be deemed to have passed by a simple majority.

Individuals attending meetings who are not Board-appointed members of a Committee are not eligible to vote.

Committee members are appointed by the Board in their personal capacity. A Committee member may assign his proxy to another Committee member but may not delegate their voting authority to a non-Committee member.
