RESPONSIBLE JEWELLERY COUNCIL CERTIFIES ISRAELI GLD DIAMONDS LTD

LONDON - The Responsible Jewellery Council (RJC) announced today that GLD Diamonds Ltd, the diamond manufacturer based in Ramat-Gan, Israel, has achieved certification by meeting the highest ethical, social and environmental standards established by the RJC's Member Certification system.

"RJC warmly congratulates GLD Diamonds Ltd on its certification. The successful verification assessment was conducted by Avi Sadikov from SGS, one of the independent third-party auditing firms accredited to the RJC's Member Certification System," says Michael Rae, RJC's Chief Executive Officer.

"We are delighted to have achieved RJC Certification. We have always valued responsible ethical, social, environmental and human rights practices and they have been part of our daily business since the inception of GLD Diamonds Ltd. Achieving the RJC Certification further confirms our strong commitment to integrity and our ongoing contribution to Sustainable Development," says Haim Giladi, President, GLD Diamonds Ltd.

About RJC

The Responsible Jewellery Council is an international not-for-profit organisation bringing together more than 360 member companies committed to promoting responsible ethical, human rights, social and environmental practices in a transparent and accountable manner throughout the jewellery industry from mine to retail. Their commitment aims to reinforce consumer and stakeholder confidence in diamond, gold and platinum group metals jewellery products. The Council has developed the RJC Member Certification System, a certification system, which will apply to all Members' businesses that contribute to the diamond, gold and platinum group metals jewellery supply chain. All Commercial Members of the RJC are required to be audited by accredited, third-party auditors to verify their conformance with the RJC's Code of Practices and become certified under the RJC Member Certification System.
