Namely, the Member has developed an internal procedure for due diligence with the following aspects: senior management is responsible to oversee the due diligence program and risk management design and implementation; the Member ensures that all the departments (including purchase, quality, production, etc.) follow their respective roles and responsibilities to implement the due diligence program and report any red flags and potential risks identified. The Member conducts due diligence management system training once a year for key staff from all relevant departments required in due diligence program. If there is an update of the program, the Member conducts additional training as well. The Member has established/updated its due diligence management system to be aligned with the OECD Guidance and the RJC. The Member has communicated the updated Responsible Gold Sourcing Policy and other sourcing requirements to all identified upstream suppliers and has incorporated due diligence requirements into legally binding agreements / declarations with its suppliers. Further, the Member was auditing the Know Your Counterparty (KYC) documents of all its suppliers on regular intervals and ensuring that its suppliers follow the same for their respective upstream suppliers. The Member has required that all records relating to the due diligence program / KYC documents be maintained at least for eight years and that they be properly used and safely stored either in physical form or in its online database. The Member had a robust process to identify risks in the supply chain. Firstly, the Member has established a procedure to identify Conflict Affected High Risk Areas ("CAHRAs") in its supply chain and also the resources used to identify CAHRAs. The Member was using the following resources to determine CAHRAs: The Anti Money Laundering Conflict Barometer for conflict maps and annual snapshots of the presence of armed conflict, the INFORM Index for Risk Management for country-level risk profiles relating to humanitarian crises, the Human Right Compliance Index for the status of Human Rights compliance and challenges faced in supplying countries and region of the supplier, the Human Freedom Index   Search   Cato Institute, CAHRA browsing map The Rule of Law in Armed Conflict (RULAC), and LexisNexis. Referring to its Supply Chain Policy and external resources, the Member has defined criteria and benchmark indicators to determine CAHRAs. 		Fourthly, all information collected was reviewed by the Member against CAHRAs, sanction lists, local laws and internal sourcing requirements. OECD Step 2: The Member identified and assessed risks, including identification and mapping of red flags. Records were available to support risk assessment. Namely, the Member set up a Risk Assessment process in order to understand how significant each risk was to the achievement of its overall business goals. Due Diligence on the aggregator/supplier was being conducted before entering any business contract. The Member was reviewing all available information in the public domain and information provided by the aggregator with the Sourcing team. Where inconsistencies, errors or incomplete information were identified in the KYC, the Member communicated the areas of improvements to the aggregator/Customer and requested an update from them. OECD Step 3: Identified risks were reported to management, as applicable. A risk strategy has been developed and implemented to support management of risks, including any actions taken as per risks/red flags (if applicable). Performance against risk strategy was monitored. Namely, if red flags were identified, Company would further engage with its aggregators/suppliers/customers to clarify and improve the documents as needed. The enhanced due diligence procedure for material and supply chains determined to be "High Risk" included: assessing the context of CAHRAs; clarifying the chain of custody; assessing the activities and relationships of upstream suppliers; identifying locations and qualitative conditions of the extraction, trade, handling, and export of minerals and conducting on-the-ground assessments. In order to map the factual circumstances, the procedure included conducting virtual on-the-ground assessments and assessing risks in the high-risk supply chains. The Member would report the assessed risk to the Management/Board and the Board would undertake the following steps to evaluate the effectiveness of the assessed risk: examine the strategy for implementing mitigation plan on the identified risks, identify the structure relating to Risk Management, ensure proper Internal Control measures to mitigate the assessed risk and thereby facilitate a smooth functioning. Based on the rating assigned to risk, the Member has identified 5 possible risk mitigation strategies for high, medium-high, medium, low-medium and low risk rating as per here. During this reporting period, no red flags were identified related to submitted KYC forms. OECD Step 4: Reasonable &amp; good faith efforts to implement COP7 have been made, monitored, audited, learnt from and improved over time.
